A COLLECTION OF OPTICAL INSTRUMENTS

The Halo Project is the result of the long optical research carried out by Mandalaki Design Studio whose goal is the union of art with technology.

Combining the research with innovative industrial design process, Mandalaki creates unique pieces of high conceptual value that are more than just a source of illumination. Halo is an optical instrument capable of creating art installations that enlarge the perception of the space.

The physical part of the project is a pure and minimal element which is carved from a solid plate of high-end black anodized aluminum, refined iron, brass, and glass.
